Situation Update

On March 10, 2020, Governor Charlie Baker declared a State of Emergency to support the Commonwealth’s response to coronavirus. On March 14, the Baker-Polito Administration announced the creation of a new COVID-19 Response Command Center. Secretary Marylou Sudders is leading the cross-secretariat response to the outbreak.

The Command Center is the Commonwealth’s single point of strategic decision making and coordination for the Administration’s comprehensive COVID-19 response.

In support of the Command Center, the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) in Framingham has activated to Level 2 (Partial Activation). In addition, MEMA’s Regional EOCs in Tewksbury, New Bedford, and Agawam have also been partially activated to support local communities.

Important protective measures to be aware of:

- Gatherings of over 25 people are prohibited until April 6th.
- On-premises consumption of food and drink at bars and restaurants is prohibited until April 6th.
- Elementary and Secondary Schools are closed until April 6th.
- Colleges and universities, both public and private, are urged to reduce the need for students to be on campus.

Second COVID-19 Death in Massachusetts:
This evening, DPH announced that a woman in her 50s from Middlesex County was the second person in Massachusetts to die from COVID-19 related illness. She had a pre-existing condition predisposing her to more severe disease.

At a press conference this afternoon, Governor Baker provided information on several COVID-19 response matters, including:

Assistance from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers:
- The Army Corps has the expertise and skills to design and build critical infrastructure in times of need.
- Commonwealth is working with the Corps on various topics including identifying existing facilities that could be converted or retrofitted into structures like hospitals or shelters.
- Governor also said that he would enlist support from our own Massachusetts National Guard for assistance.

Testing Update from Command Center
- The Command Center is carefully monitoring the Commonwealth’s testing capacity and ways that we can increase testing for more residents.
- Significant progress in testing this week.
- The number of tests completed in a day in Massachusetts has more than doubled since Wednesday, from 520 to 1,116 today.

Drive Through Test Sites:
- The Governor spoke about the first privately owned urgent care center in Massachusetts starting to conduct drive thru testing for COVID-19. AFC Urgent Care in Waltham is testing pre-screed patients waiting to be tested.
- This new site is in addition to the CVS Shrewsbury pilot location announced Thursday — 1 of 40 CVS drive thru locations in the US - and they play an important role in our overall effort to expand testing capacity across the Commonwealth.
- The Commonwealth will continue working on the testing issue around the clock with the federal government, private labs, our health care providers and local health care authorities to further increase our capacity.

Emergency Childcare Centers Update:
- Last week, the Commonwealth announced that effective Monday, March 23, all early education centers and family childcare providers will be closed.
- Starting Monday, selected sites will open to serve as emergency drop-in childcare services for families with no other options to continue going to work to ensure the safety, health, and welfare of the Commonwealth’s residents.
- Child Care is meant to be for those who must report to work. Outside of the obvious emergency responders and medical professionals, this includes critical service workers like grocery store employees.
- As of Friday, the Commonwealth had approved over 300 sites to start operations on Monday. We expect more to come online eventually, but this needs to be implemented safely and the sites should only be used as a last resort. (For more visit the Department of Early Education & Care website)
